Over One Hundred Killed and Wounded -The Bloody History of Three Nights of Anarchy-Citizens' Committee

PULL PARTICULARS. CINCINNATI, March 29,-It has been a night of excitement in Cincinnati, such as the city has not known for years, and it is not impossible that before morning there may be enacted at the jail scenes of bloodshed and rioting, such as are not uncommon in the wildest of western cities. A meeting was called by some of the best citizens to protest against the action of the jury in the Berner case on Monday, when he was found guilty of manslaughter, though indicted for murder in the first degree. By seven o'clock Music Hall was well filled with a constantly increasing crowd. Long before the meeting was called to order

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE crowded the hall and surged about the corridors and filled the space in front of the ridors and filled the space in front of the building. The looks of the people were ominous of evil. Those who called the meeting soon saw that they had raised a storm that night cud in a whirlwind. It was too late to back out. They organized with a long list of vice presidents and the usual officers. They meended to council together and advise as to the best means of ridding Cincinnati of the stall that was upon her name. It was not a minute a score more ropes were in sight. Amid shouts of "Hang'em all! Gut the jall! Shoot them down on sight!" etc., etc. Resolutions, strong and sharp, were brought in and passed with a whirl. A friend of Campbell, Berner's lawyer, tried to amend them, but the crowd would have none of it. They became more and more bolsterous. They became more and more bolsterous. Their blood was getting hotter. The tiger in men's bosoms was awakened. The leaders saw they must, if possible, avert mischief, and as quickly as possible, ad-

By this time the police were thick about there. They got possession of the inside of the jall and restored, in a slight degree, order. But they did not dare to make any arrests. The mob would not allow it. They filled the house and roamed about un-

SEEKING SOME LUCKLESS CRIMINAL on whom to wreck vengeance. There was shooting, but it was up to this time only shooting, but it was up to this time only from the mob firing in the air. Meantime Berner had been taken to Loveland, twenty-five miles away, in charge of a deputy. While awaiting for the arrival there of Joe Moses, the criminal bailiff, a mob organized and took him away, but he escaped. Nothing further was definitely known at midnight. It is also there reported that the mob had SET FIRE TO THE JAIL. The First Regiment O. N. G. was drilling in their armory a couple of squares away from the jail. Sheriff Hawkins brought over a detachment and introduced them into the jail through the cellar. The mob filled the corridors; they were ordered to withdraw, but refused, and with Berner with no handcuffs.

Newton Cobb, of Manchester, O., was shot in the shoulder by a soldier, through a jail window. Cobb was a bystander on the sidewalk. The crowd claims that the soldiers are firing unnecessarily upon ordisiders, who were merely lookers on. On the other hand, the soldiers feated an effort to burn the place or to blow it up by rolling coal oil barrels into the basement and justify themselves in clearing the sidewalks on that account. It is said that a number of women speciators have been hurt with random shots. The firing of guns is still heard at intervals.

WOUNDED BY THE SOLDIERS.

WOUNDED BY THE SOLDIERS. 2:30 A. M.—The firing by the soldlers from the windows had been terribly destructive. The following wounded have been gathered into a dry goods store at the corner of Court and Walnut Streets, and at a hotel near:

James Green, dying. James Green, dying.
Waiter E. Fay, dying.
James G. Turk, mortally wounded,
F. Solmer, bad wound on the thigh.
Ed. Dullef, shot in the legs. Jackson Tod, badly wounded. Dr. Charles Muscroft, police surgeon, slightly wounded, Chris Von Seggern, special policeman, slight wound.

These were all bystanders, and there is a growing bitter feeling against the soldiers. The mob has taken all the arms they want from Kittridge's store, including a small denist and the usual officers. They method the sum of the most has taken at the arms they want the best means of ridding (Inclination of the most has taken at the arms they want the best means of ridding (Inclination of the most has taken at the arms they want they are clearly the most of the most has taken at the arms they want they are clearly the most of the most has taken at the arms they want to make a most of the most has taken at the arms they want to make a most of the most of the most has taken at the arms they want to make a most of the most near by. The same beam and half a dozen more have been carried into the jail, and used as props to secure all the outer doors. They are long enough to reach back to the solid wall or pillars, and the work of battering down the doors would be exceedingly difficult now. The jail office and jailer's residence have scarcely an unbroken article about them. Even the large heating stove was wrecked. Turnkey Mellingh's wife and children passed a night of terror. Mellugh was compelled to serve with Sheriff Hawkins until the mob was expelled, while the mother and children in the rooms above heard the shoots of the soldiers and the shouts of the mob and witnessed the destruction of their furniture. To add to their horror the mob yelled: west of the court house. Instantly the city was in commoded. Everybody knew what it meant. Crowds filled the streets and hurried toward the jail. Fifteen thousand people were there in fifteen minutes. The first overd act was by some boys, who michael to the first proper in the court house. Instantly the city was in commoded to their furniture. To add to their horror the mob yelled; "Take out the women and children on bealt struck the iron facing of the door, and rebounding, crashed through the glass corn acrowd gathered. It was soon reinforced from the Music Hall meeting. In a short time all the windows of the jail were broken. The crowd had ropes. They broke into a carriage factory across the street and took out a large beam, sledge hammers, etc. A dozen men ran with the beam as a battering-ran against the jail door and forced it open. Inside, the sheriff, jailer and deputies kept themselves as calm as possible. The mob found that Berner was gone. They tried to find the Berkers, and tried to batter down the eel door of one of them.

While the mother and children in the fooms above heard the shotts of the soldiers and the shouts of the soldiers and the shouts of the mob with the shouts of the mob will not heart the shouts of the mob due to their horror the mob yelled; "Take out the women and children on bealt struck the iron facing of the door, and rebounding, crashed through the glass thirty hours. That most fearful street engine of destruction, the Galling gun, belonging to the police force, is also on duty. This is the crowd was angered at the place where a police force, is also on duty. Late in the evening the police and soldiers were busy under Sheriff Hawkins' direction barricading the streets in every direction at a distance of one bundred yards from the jail. Heavy transfer wagons were upturned in the street and building material, wood, the street and building material, wood, stone and iron from neighboring buildings were appropriated to construct a strong defense for the purpose of preventing a rush of people to the vicinity of the jail. A mob would have to first storm these barricades before getting within reach of the jail. These thorough preparations added to the fact that more troops are coming may hold the mob in check. The fact is, no organized mob is known. That of last night was not premeditated. It was spontaneous, growing not out of any incendiary speeches and resolutions at the meeting, for these were all conservative but out of the fact. were all conservative, but out of the fact were all conservative, but out of the fact that there was a great body of men to-gether on the street, with a common feel-ing of intense indignation over the criminal farce played by the Berner jury and at the general slackness in the administration of justice to murderers. The mob spirit grew by degrees and was not the result of any stattled play.

firing has been done at the jail. The mob is now looking for ammunition with a prospect of success. The First Regiment's Armory had been guarded for three nights in anticipation of this affair, but the Veterus Regiment, of which Sheriff Hawkins is Colonel, did not take the same precaution. For the purpose of getting more arms and ammunition, the mob is now in the extensive guastore of B. Rittridge & Co., the largest in the icity. In a few mainties a greatly superior force to the military will be about the jail, and serious results must follow. Some are talking about gotting the cannon at Music Hail.

The mob has lost all control, and seems bound on destruction pure and simple. The burning court house gives no aid in the original purpose of lynching the murderers, and its destruction only adds loss to the disgrace. Firing upon the mob has been mercless, whether by Gattling gan or by the soldiers cannot now be told, as nothing has been heard from the inside of the jail for the nast hour. for the past hour.

CINCINNATI, March 20.—The following hand bill was given wide circulation through the city yesterday:

"Public safety demands immediate action. Organize vigilante committees in every ward. Heat sores by purifying the body; serve notice to criminals, criminal lawyers, gamblers and prostitutes to leave Hamilton country within three days and remain away forever or suffer the penalty. As long as the present clique of criminal lawyers that infrest the city are permitted to remain and corrupt jurors, outrage justice and shield criminals, just that long will our citizens be murdered, our property destroyed and protection by our property destroyed and protection by the law be defield. Make one clean sweep while we are at it. A vigilance committee of 300 in each ward, composed

Only two hours before, at three o'clock a.m., when a small crowd gathered at the drug store, at Court and Walnut streets, one square west of the court house, to see the patrol wagon take away a dead man, the militia, the crowd was angered at the place where a failure to do justice had been so marked. It did not aid at all in getting at the prisoners nor in doing harm to the militia. It was purely wanton, nor was there any excuse for the failure to protect this property. The crowd was permitted to go to the very windows and break them in without resistance, and when opportunity offered some devilish Communist, who gloried in pure destruction suggested to east some light on the another. With this leadership, and with these motives, chairs, carpets, desks were broken and piled in heaps in the Treasurer's office and the match applied. As this was done some silly-headed or drunken hoodlums in the crowd cheered and yelled, "Burn the d—i militia out." Inst here occurred one of the most melancholy events of the night, the killing of Captain John Desmond. He had been appraised of the purpose to burn the court house, and was sent with a squad of militia to try and put out the fire. The mob fired on him and a ball crashed through his head. At the same time Private McGuire was shot through the breast and fatally hurt. Captain Desmond was a young lawyer of much promise, a fine looking soldier, the pride of his regiment, and one whose loss on every account is deeply developed.

CINCINNATI, March 30.

Misquided men, alleging indignation that the criminal laws are not properly executed, have themselves been led into the crime of assaulting public officers of the peace and destroying private property. I, therefore, Mayor of Chichmatl, do hereby command all such persons to desist from the lawlessness and obey the constituted authorities. I call upon all good citizens to raily for the preservation of the public peace. Such as are willing to enroil themselves as special police during an emergency will please report themselves at the police station nearest their homes, where the officer in charge as hereby directed to enroll them and provide means of assembling them. Members of the Grand Army of the Republic are requested to assemble with their officers at their posts, and reports thouselves by messenger to me for similar duty. Cluzeus are warned to keep the boys and youth of their families at home, and aid to remain quietly in their houses except those organized and enrolled as above directed. All persons found on the street after seven o'clock this evening will be required to show good cause for being abroad. The authorities of the city and of the State are determined that order shall be immediately and permanently restored, and the consequences of 4 bobdience to this proclamation will be upon those who fall to regard it:

In the inquiry—Which is the best Liniment for Man and Beast?—this is the answer, attested by two generations: the MENT. The reason is simple. It penetrates every sore, wound, or lameness, to the very bone, and drives out all inflammatory and morbid matter. It "goes to the root" of the trouble, and never falls to cure in double quick time.

Baltimore, Md., U.S. A.

Kindling with enthusiasm as he recalled the great struggle of twenty years ago. Captain J. R. San'ord, of Newark, who raised Company B of 33d N. J. Zouaves, and went to the front with them, said to a transient companion one day last summer: "Yes, I was in eight of the fiercest battles of the war; Saven Pines, Maivern Hill, Savage Station, Missionary Ridge and Harrison's Landing are in the list. I started to go with Sherman to the sea, but my right leg was shattered by a ball at the first engagement after the great march began. After the amputation I was taken twenty-five miles and left in a tent at Ringgeld, Ga. A rain came on and my tent was flooded. Then I was started on my way to Chattanooga, 280 miles distant. Just try to imagine the horror of that journey to a man in my condition. For years afterward I was staken with every exertion. Yes, he doctors prescribe, as they always will when you ask them, but I keep my own loctor now, and he noveropens his mouth."

"A dumb doctor?" exclaimed the Captain's caller.
